The Tiree Wave Classic becomes the Corona Extra PWA World Cup in 2007

The PWA World Cup Event is planned for the 6-13 October 2007.
The Tiree Wave Classic (UKWA) Event will run from the 3-5 October.

For more info go to <http://tireewaveclassic.ning.com>

where you can also join the new social network!

You can post pics, videos, comments here in the run up to the comp and during it. If you can't post directly, mail to :
kirsty.sweeney@balevullin.co.uk and we will try and get it up for you, as it were...

If you are sailing there, this is an opportunity for BLATANT SELF PROMOTION, please use it.
Doesn't have to be serious, quirky funny stuff most welcome.

If you just have an interest you can browse, comment and ask.

Be sure to take your vidcameras, camera phones etc to Tiree if you are going.

Best,

Kirsty

Is anyone else planning on going this year then?

I hope to make it again, albeit for the second half of comp week and then staying for a few days after.

...would love to... but it's my 10th wedding anniversary no the 4th and Mrs E, I suspect, is thinking more along the lines of a romantic weekend in Rome/Paris without the kids....

a windy weekend on an Hebridean island ????

Dare I ?

Mrs E, has just read my last post in disgust.....

She informs me she has tickets to Tiree already booked and is infact due to sail her opening heat in the PWA world cup with or without me supporting her.....

In fact if I am in Paris/Rome who the hell is going to be her caddy ?

put firmly in my place (again...)
