I have the same problem. I lost the ability to access the forums for several weeks and suspect it is a common problem and explains the lack of activity.

Same here. I only regained access a few days ago, but there are still problems.

Thanks everyone for the messages

That one took some real finding - you may have seen different bits and pieces disappearing from the site as I did a bit of troubleshooting.

Finally found the reason was to do with URL rewriting - i.e. when you see <http://www.iwindsurf.co.uk/gallery/> instead of a great big long link.

If you find any links not working around the site please let me know....
