I have gone into submit a link but even after filling out the respective information there is no upload link at the end. How can i upload a link?

Kind Regards

Michelle

I have had 71 views to the meesage Help with bookmark please and have received 0 replies.:) . Not even from the administrators. Is it really that difficult to set up?

Michelle

I don't think the site is as actively maintained / administered as it was in its heyday, and now just sort of 'ticks over' on its own. It's still a great resource for those of us who do use it, but I think the administrators just pop in from time-to-time.

Anyone else know more? Apologies if I'm under-estimating/appreciating anyone's efforts here.

you're right twofish that's exactly how it is
I think its related to the windsurfing gear thats gathering a layer of dust in the garage..

I'll sort the link now...

link fixed - mind you it doesn't help when you've mistyped the link itself (comma instead of dot) and the text has enough html code in to sink a battleship.... bright red on black background?
