I don't have Shawn's special powers, but from looking at the synoptic charts for Friday:

- Different charts are showing different patterns.

- The patterns are not good.

It's too early to call, but I wouldn't say Friday looked a good bet from here.

The UKMO chart suggests Sunday could be a howler though, but Sunday is an awful long way away to be making predictions.

Hmmmmmm????Theyr showing plenty of wind in the morning, Proudman showing not so much.....Hmmmmmm????What to do???? Just the sniff of some wind might well be enough of a reason for me to take a bit of toil tomorrow.....Anyone else coming out to play? Looks like it will be worth getting there in the morning if it does blow
