Have a look at the Red Bull Storm Chaser lunacy
<http://www.redbullstormchase.com/>

Thing is if its one of the Rhossy regulars that gets picked (hope its the mad window cleaner Russ "Crazy Horse" Tetlow) then the film crew will probably have difficulty picking them out coz' there will be loads out.

Here is a copy of an email I have just recieved from the mad window cleaner:

Not a spook this one, to me, on this occasion, you are important to me, nice thought hey? Told yawl I was a lovely fella

Ok I know its all bull shit, pardon my french, but you are, and heres why....

I need a little help to get a ticket for the Red Bull Storm Chase, see event info below. I have registered as a rider for my country and hope to be chosen. The selection of the riders is done in form of a public voting system which is currently running online. Voting info see below. The rider scoring the majority of votes in his country will get a ticket for the event

I have registered for Great Britain

My registration name is Crazy Horse

Please visit now: www.redbullstormchase.com and vote for me!

Apparently, at the moment I'm not doing too well, on the voting front, so heres what you do, follow the instructions as indicated above and vote, you then copy this email and send it to everyone you know, kind of a chain thing.

Thanks a lot!

Info:

The voting is divided into two phases, if I make it to the top five in my country during the first round (17.-31.Juli), I will move on to the final elimination (1.-13.August). Once more I will need your help then to make sure I get the majority of votes!!!

The event

The Red Bull Storm Chase will be the biggest windsurf-action-documentary of one storm ever. This autumn (1.Sept.-15.Nov.) there will be 12 windsurfers in 9 countries waiting for a storm reaching force 10+. On the day when it strikes there one windsurfer per country will take the ultimate challenge and face the storm on his homespot. Every windsurfer will be accompanied by a camera team and a photographer to capture the action for a final DVD. There will be no winner or loser, just the challenge man vs. nature.

Don't forget, once you've voted you must then send the email or forward the email to everyone you know, they in turn must register their vote, and then send it to everyone they know etc. etc. etc.

Thank You so much,

.....have a wonderful life.

Russ.

ps.

I love you all xxxxx

A little pic of me in action.

If you want to see more, check me out at seaspritesports.com where you'll find me under team riders.

Thanks again!

Seems like he is really up for this one so would like to help him out. Would be nice if a "non profesional" windsurfer got a ticket to this event coz lets face it in a f10+ gale I for one would like to see what would happen to us mere mortals :evil:
