
MTB\'s @ Llandegla on Sunday 30th July

Anybody else interested in Sunday - if so are we talking morning or afternoon ? - I haven't actually conversed with the better half and others yet either - what about 9 or 10am, not too early to make it a burden but early enough to get something out of the day afterwards? :cheer:

Theyr is currently forecasting SW F5 for Sunday lunchtime at Rhossie, and you're going bicycling?

Then again, forecast F5 probably equals F2 and drizzle on the day.

As is www.weatheronline.co.uk also.

Lokks like I may have to dust of the boards.

Bert,
just noticed that the tab for Llandegla forest on the google map page is a couple of miles away from the bike track car park.

I should definately point out at this point that any bicycling is secondary to windsurfing - if the winds blowing forget the bike ;)

We therefore need to have a decision - maybe Saturday evening ?
